“No mail, low morale.” The story of the 6888th Central Postal Directory Battalion

Today, 99-year old Lena King is one of the last surviving members of the 6888th. She joined the Army when she was 18. In a recent interview, she shared seeing mail piled floor to ceiling, adding, “We had promised we could get it done”. And they did. The U.S. Senate unanimously passed the Six-Triple Eight Congressional Gold Medal Act in December, 2020. The bill remains in the U.S. House of Representatives today.

“No mail, low morale”, was the unit motto of the 6888th Central Postal Directory Battalion, which was also the first and only all-Black Women’s Army Corps to serve in WWII. In February, 1945, the 6888th, or “Six-Triple Eight”, as they were later called, arrived in Birmingham, England, to process backlogged pieces of military mail. Living up to their motto, the unit processed over 17 million pieces of mail in just three months by working three shifts a day, seven days a week.

Their commander was Maj. Charity Adams, who had joined the Women’s Army Auxiliary in 1942—becoming the first Black woman to receive a U.S. Army commission. At the end of the war, she was a Lt. Col.—the highest-ranking Black woman in the Army.

I stand on the shoulders of these women who paved the way for my military service. I am grateful to them for their sacrifice and service to our nation. As the first Black person appointed as cabinet secretary of New Mexico Department of Veterans Services (DVS), I am humbled, and strive everyday to serve our veteran community with excellence. I salute my incredible team at DVS who work hard at ensuring that “Every Day is Veterans Day!”

Highly Rural Veterans Transportation Program Now Serving All 15 Highly Rural NM Counties

The New Mexico Department of Veterans Services (DVS) Highly Rural Veterans Transportation Program has expanded to include all fifteen New Mexico counties identified as “highly rural” by the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs (VA).

The program is now available in Catron, De Baca, Hidalgo, Lincoln, Sierra, and Torrance counties (map at right/shaded in light blue). Veterans in these six counties can call DVS to make reservations for free round-trip rides between their home and any VA medical appointment, or VA-approved medical appointments at non-VA facilities.

Launched last February, the program began with service to veterans in Cibola, Colfax, Guadalupe, and Socorro counties—with service added two months later for veterans in Harding, Mora, Quay, San Miguel, and Union counties (earlier nine counties shaded in green). DVS contracts with private transportation agencies to provide this round-trip service. The program is funded through a successful application by DVS for a VA Highly Rural Transportation Program grant. VA awards funding to agencies that can demonstrate the need—and willingness—to serve rural veterans who, according to DVS and VA research, often neglect their health care due to the lack of transportation. VA defines “highly rural” as any county with less than seven people per square mile. It identified fifteen counties in New Mexico—the fifteen counties now being served by the Highly Rural Veterans Transportation Program.

“As we successfully stated in applying for this grant, DVS strongly believes that the lack of transportation should absolutely not be a factor for veterans to get health care,” said DVS Cabinet Secretary Sonya L. Smith. “So we are thrilled to now provide this critical transportation service to veterans in our most rural parts of the state.”

To get these free round-trip rides, veterans in the fifteen counties must make a reservation at least three days before a medical appointment by calling (505) 429-5906 Monday through Friday from 9am-5pm.

Secretary Smith added that DVS is also working on developing transportation options for veterans throughout the state through collaborations with other state, federal, local, and private agencies, and transportation service providers.

“This issue is not confined just to our highly rural-area veterans,” said Secretary Smith. “Veterans in Albuquerque, Las Cruces, Santa Fe, and other communities have told us they have trouble making their medical appointments because they can’t get to their doctor’s office. Coming up with a viable transportation-option plan for the state is a priority for DVS in 2022.”
DVS Promotes Two VSOs; Fills Other Department Vacancies

DVS has promoted from within its ranks to fill two leadership positions, welcomes back a familiar face in a new administrative role, and brings aboard new faces to fill other key vacancies.

George Vargas is the new Field Operations Division Director who will be based at the DVS Albuquerque Northeast Heights office. The former Las Cruces and Albuquerque Veterans Service Officer (VSO) and U.S. Army veteran will supervise the agency’s 20 VSOs in 14 field offices throughout the state—and outreach visits by the VSOs. George can be contacted at george.vargas@state.nm.us or (575) 520-2634.

Beverly Charley has been promoted from her Farmington VSO position to full-time DVS tribal/pueblos liaison—a position she was serving concurrently with her VSO duties. The new title will allow the U.S. Army veteran and proud member of the Navajo nation to focus on strengthening DVS with the state’s 19 pueblos, 4 tribal nations, and the more than 9,000 Native American veterans in New Mexico. She can be reached at beverly.charley@state.nm.us or (505) 241-3322.

For now, veterans needing in-person VSO assistance in the Farmington area can contact the DVS Gallup-based VSOs—who will be making regular outreach visits to the area. Or as with any veteran in the state, any DVS VSO in the state can be contacted for phone/email assistance. (VSO contact information can be found on pages 23-24)

DVS is pleased to welcome Mark Woffindale as its new VSO in the agency's Hobbs office, located at 2120 North Alto Street.

Mark served 7-1/2 years in the U.S. Army as a 12B combat engineer. He was deployed twice to Iraq, and was also stationed in Germany and Ft. Campbell, KY. He is available to assist with filing VA claims, filing for state veterans benefits, or with anything else veterans and their families need help with.

As with all DVS VSOs, in-office visits are by appointment only, and can be made by contacting Mark at (575) 392-5290 or mark.woffindale@state.nm.us. He can also provide assistance by phone or email.
The DVS administrative services division is pleased to welcome back Danelle Lucero as its new chief financial officer.

Danelle previously worked in the division from 2009-2019 as an accountant auditor/finance supervisor, before leaving the agency’s office on the first floor of the Bataan Memorial Building in downtown Santa Fe...to be the chief procurement officer and A/P finance manager for the New Mexico Department of Cultural Affairs—on the second floor of the Bataan Building!

Though she enjoyed her time at DCA, she is glad to return to serving veterans. Her father, Juan Jaquez, is a U.S. Army Vietnam War veteran who was held prisoner for 4-1/2 years at the infamous Hôa Lô prison in North Vietnam...sarcastically dubbed the “Hanoi Hilton” by American prisoners of war (POWs) due to the facility’s miserable conditions and brutal treatment by their North Vietnamese captors.

Kathy Snyder has been named the new State Approving Agency (SAA) director. She had been serving as SAA consultant since coming to DVS in the spring of 2019. In her role as SAA director, she will oversee the reviews, evaluations, and approval of all education and training programs offered by colleges, universities, and trade schools available for use by veterans using the GI Bill®. This is a requirement by VA to ensure a program’s compliance with strict state and federal statutory and regulatory criteria.

She will also engage in outreach activities throughout the state to promote awareness of the GI Bill® education benefit—advocating for quality and diverse education and training opportunities for veterans and other eligible persons.

Coming to Las Cruces Next Month: Veterans Property Tax Waiver/Exemption “Curbside” Service Day

Heads Up! DVS is planning a property tax exemption/waiver certificate drive-up “curbside” service day in Las Cruces next month. More details will be released as soon as they are finalized.

At this curbside service day, which was very popular on its initial launch last year in Albuquerque, veterans and unmarried widows of veterans—seated in the comfort and safety of their vehicles—will be provided with “carhop-style” assistance from DVS staff with filing for the veterans state veterans property tax exemption or property waiver.

The veteran’s property tax exemption is a $4,000 reduction off the taxable value of the primary residence of a veteran or unmarried surviving spouse of a veteran. A property tax waiver of the entire amount is available for veterans rated by VA at 100% service-connected permanent-and-total disabled.
Veteran-Owned Businesses Now Have Access to Purchasing Government Surplus Property

The New Mexico Veterans Business Outreach Center (VBOC)—the business development division of the New Mexico Department of Veterans Services—and the New Mexico State Agency for Surplus Property (SASP) are announcing the opportunity for veteran-owned business owners to purchase federal and state government surplus property/equipment at reduced cost.

Items such as vehicles, heavy equipment, tools, furniture, and much more are now available to help veteran-owned businesses grow their businesses with this surplus government equipment for a fraction of their original acquisition cost.

This opportunity is courtesy of the full implementation of the Veterans Small Business Enhancement Act (S.2679), initially passed in April of 2018 to amend the Small Business Act—directing the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) to give access to and manage the distribution of government-owned surplus property to veteran-owned small businesses. This was pursuant to a memorandum of agreement between the SBA, the General Services Administration (GSA), and the heads of state agencies for surplus properties.

To purchase this surplus equipment, veteran-owned business owners must be enrolled in VetBiz, the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) system for verifying veteran ownership of small businesses. To enroll, please go to https://www.vetbiz.va.gov/vip/.

For additional information, or for assistance with enrolling, contact VBOC Director Rich Coffel at (505) 383-2401 or RichardLCoffel@state.us.mil.

Once enrolled, veteran-owned business owners should contact New Mexico’s SASP office at the information below to be approved.

A Look at Veteran-Related Bills
In the 2022 State Legislature
The 2022 New Mexico Legislature, which convened at noon on January 18, adjourns at noon on Thursday, February 17. The following are the twelve veteran-related pieces of legislation that were introduced by legislators:

HB 76: Military Retirement Income Tax Exemption (duplicate of SB 85)
Sponsors: State Representatives Phelps Anderson (I-Chaves, Lea & Roosevelt Counties), Harry Garcia (D-Bernalillo, Cibola, McKinley, Socorro, San Juan, & Valencia), T. Ryan Lane (R-San Juan), Joy Garratt (D-Bernalillo), Jane Powdrell-Culbert (R-Sandoval)
Allows an armed forces retiree to claim an exemption to paying income tax on pension income under $30,000.

HB 168: Disabled Veterans Transportation
Sponsors: State Representatives Rebecca Dow (R-Gran, Hidalgo, & Sierra), Harry Garcia (D-Bernalillo, Cibola, McKinley, Socorro, San Juan, & Valencia), Brian Baca (R-Valencia), Randal Crowder (R-Curry)
Appropriates $1 million from the state’s general fund to DVS to establish a program to provide disabled veterans with round trip transportation between their homes and medical appointments.

HB 195: Tax Proof of Disabled Veteran Status
Sponsors: State Representatives Rachel Black (R-Otero), Joshua Hernandez (R-Sandoval), Debra Sariñana (D-Bernalillo), Randal Crowder (R-Curry), Susan Herrera (D-Rio Arriba, Santa Fe, & Taos)
Provides flexibility/makes it easier for qualified veterans and unmarried widows of veterans to claim the veterans property tax exemption or waiver. Once such an exemption or waiver is successfully filed and claimed, they need not be claimed for subsequent tax years if there is no change in eligibility. Exemptions and waivers allowable under this subsection shall be applied automatically by county assessors in subsequent tax years.

HJR 6: Veteran Property Tax Exemption
Sponsors: State Representatives Eliseo Alcón (D-Cibola & McKinley), Randall Pettigrew (R-Lea), Rachel Black (R-Otero), Patricia Roybal Caballero (D-Bernalillo)
Proposes an amendment to Article 8, Section 15, of the New Mexico Constitution to expand the current property tax exemption for 100 percent service-connected disabled veterans or their unmarried widows… to veterans with less than a 100 percent disability. The exemption or waiver would be tied to the service-connected veteran’s federal disability rating. The question would be on the ballot at the next general election, or a special election called for the purpose.

HJR 7: Armed Forces & Widow Property Taxes
Sponsors: State Representatives Eliseo Alcón (D-Cibola & McKinley), Randall Pettigrew (R-Lea), Rachel Black (R-Otero), Patricia Roybal Caballero (D-Bernalillo)
Proposes an amendment to Article 8, Section 5 of the New Mexico Constitution to increase a property tax exemption for honorably discharged members of the armed forces and their widows and widowers from $4,000 to $10,000 off the taxable value of their primary residence, effective for the 2023 property tax year, which begins January 1, 2023. After the 2023 property tax year, this $10,000 property tax exemption would be indexed to inflation. The question would be on the ballot at the next general election, or a special election called for the purpose.

HM 37: Mexican 201st Squadron
Sponsors: State Representatives Linda Serrato (D-Santa Fe), Javier Martinez (D-Bernalillo)
Recognizes and honors the contributions of the Águilas Aztecas, or “Aztec Eagles.” The squadron, from the Mexican Expeditionary Air Force, reformed as the U.S. Army Air Force’s 201st fighter squadron and flew as part of the U.S. Army Air Force’s 58th Fighter Group that saw action in the Philippines in the summer of 1945.

SB 28: Hiring Preference for Veterans
Sponsor: State Senator Harold Pope (D-Bernalillo)
Would permit private employers to adopt employment policies to give veterans’ hiring preference to veterans, spouses of veterans, and widows and widowers of veterans. The preference would not be considered a violation of state or local equal employment opportunity law.

SB 39: Procurement Preferences Changes
Sponsors: State Senator Benny Shendo, Jr. (D-Bernalillo), McKinley, Rio Arriba, San Juan, Sandoval), Rep. Harry Garcia (D-Bernalillo, Cibola, McKinley, Socorro, San Juan, & Valencia)
Increases the preference for NM resident businesses and contractors from 5% to 8%...while maintaining the 10% preference for veteran-owned businesses (VOBs). Removes language stating only businesses with annual revenue or $3 million or less qualifies for the veteran preference designation…and removes language that prohibits resident VOBs and resident veteran contractors from claiming the veteran preference for more than 10-years.

SB 45: Veteran Business and Contractor Procurement
Sponsors: State Senator Harold Pope (D-Bernalillo)
Would make permanent the certification of a resident veteran-owned business and resident veteran contractor

SB 85: Income Tax Exemption for Military Retirement Pay
Sponsor: State Senator Harold Pope (D-Bernalillo)
(duplicate of HB 76)

SB 128: Uniformed Services Retiree Income Tax Deduction

Sponsors: State Senators William Burt (R-Chaves, Lincoln & Otero), Mark Moores (R-Bernalillo), & David Gallegos (R-Eddy & Lea)

Would provide the following deductions for the retirement income of a military retiree, the retiree's surviving spouse, or the spouse of a service member killed in the line of duty. This deduction would be 33% of military retirement income, not to exceed $16,333 for a taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 2023 and prior to January 1, 2024….66% not to exceed $33,666 for a taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 2024 and prior to January 1, 2025…and 100% not to exceed $50,000 for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2025.

SB-140: Free College Tuition For New Mexicans at In-State Public Universities/Colleges

SB 140, the Opportunity Scholarship Act, offers another avenue for veterans who want to pursue a post-high school education here in New Mexico. The bill, sponsored by State Sen. Liz Stefanics (D-Santa Fe County) and State Rep. Joy Garratt (D-Bernalillo) would pay for tuition and fees for New Mexicans at any public university, college, or tribal college in the state…provided you are a legal residents of New Mexico, enrolled in at least six credit hours, and maintain a 2.5 GPA.

“The Opportunity Scholarship breaks down barriers that keep New Mexicans from accessing the higher education and career training they need to provide for their families, power New Mexico’s workforce, and drive the innovations that will make our state a leader now and for years to come.” said Governor Michelle Lujan Grisham, who strongly supports the bill.“Free college will uplift our state and empower New Mexicans to reach higher and think bigger in 2022 and beyond.”

If passed, the new law would eliminate the existing New Mexico Opportunity and Lottery Scholarships, which are only available to high school seniors who must begin attending a state college or university with 16 months of graduation from high school. New Mexicans can learn more about New Mexico’s plan for free college at www.freecollegenm.org. Veterans still have the option of using their GI education benefit bill. For more information about the GI Bill, go to https://benefits.va.gov/gibill/. Veterans can also call VA’s Education Call Center toll-free at 1-(888) 442-4551. Or you can submit a question through Ask VA* at https://www.ask.va.gov.
A Reminder: No Co-Pays Or Out-Of-Pocket Charges for Insurance-Covered Behavioral Health Care

(by Diane Mourning-Brown/DVS Healthcare Division Director)

Last year, the New Mexico Legislature passed, and Governor Lujan Grisham signed into law SB 317, which forbids charging a copay or other out-of-pocket cost for behavioral health services covered by insurance. The new law applies as of January 1, 2022. (Caution: This does not apply to some insurance plans – see below for information on which ones don’t have to waive copays.)

If your insurance plan is covered by SB 317, you cannot be charged a copay or other out-of-pocket cost for behavioral health services you receive. This includes doctor’s services, inpatient hospital costs, medications, lab services and other costs. If you are mistakenly charged a copay, your insurance company should reimburse you. If you can’t resolve the issue with the insurance company, you can submit a complaint to the Managed Health Care Bureau at the Office of the Superintendent of Insurance at https://www.osi.state.nm.us/index.php/managed-healthcare-complaint/ or by calling 855-427-5674.

For details on the new policy, you can read this Bulletin from the Superintendent of Insurance: https://www.osi.state.nm.us/index.php/news/senate-bill-317-applying-cost-sharing-waivers-to-behavioral-health-services/. (It’s directed at insurers so it’s a bit technical, but it will give you an idea of which services are exempt from cost-sharing.)

Some types of insurance plans don’t have to waive copays for behavioral health services:

The ban on cost-sharing ban doesn’t apply to “self-insured” plans like those offered by most large employers, where the employer is responsible for paying its employees’ health care costs. Federal law exempts those plans from state regulation, so the state doesn’t have the power to apply the new law to them. Keep in mind that self-insured employers often contract with an insurance company to administer their self-insured plan. If that company is simply administering the plan—and it’s the employer that is responsible for paying for services provided—the cost-sharing ban doesn’t apply. If you have questions about whether your employer’s plan is self-insured, you may want to check with the human resources office. The new law also doesn’t apply if you have a high-deductible health plan with a health savings account, because federal rules permit those plans to waive cost-sharing only for preventive services.

New Mexico’s new law should make it easier to access behavioral health services by removing a financial barrier to getting those services. This is an important step forward in improving behavioral healthcare for New Mexicans. If you have any questions about VA healthcare, or healthcare for veterans ineligible for VA health care, please contact me at diane.mourningbrown@state.nm.us or (505) 318-6273.

New AARP Job Center Helps Veterans, Spouses Find Jobs

To help alleviate unemployment and underemployment in the veteran community, AARP created a Veteran and Military Spouses Job Center to help veterans and their spouses find employment.

For many of our nation’s 8.3 million military veterans in the civilian workforce, transitioning into a career can be a difficult process. Even after securing a civilian job, veterans and their spouses often find themselves in roles that leave them underemployed, meaning their skills are not fully utilized, making it difficult to make ends meet.

“When you’re a veteran or military spouse, it can be challenging to know where to start your job search and how to get employers to understand how your job skills, experience and character transfer to a new position,” said Troy Broussard, senior adviser to AARP’s Veterans and Military Families Initiative.

Despite the drop in veteran unemployment to 3.2 percent in December 2021, two-thirds of all veteran and active-duty spouses employed in the civilian sector say they are underemployed in some way, according to data from the Blue Star Families’ annual Military Lifestyle Survey.

“This free, one-stop resource will help veterans and military spouses learn how to effectively leverage their military skills and experience to give them an edge in today’s competitive job market and avoid underemployment,” said Broussard.

Here is the link to the job center: https://campaigns.aarp.org/Veteran-Job-Center. The center includes a suite of free resources to help find jobs, explore new career fields, get advice, take a job training course and more. Among the resources offered are:

AARP Job Board: Veterans can search for employers who value military experience and how it applies to their industry. Use the “Veterans Wanted” filter to search for employers who are actively seeking applicants with a military background.

AARP Resume Advisor: Get a free expert review of how well your résumé communicates your skills and obtain personalized recommendations on how to make your résumé stand out. Discounted writing packages are also available to rewrite your résumé, cover letter or LinkedIn profile.

VA to Expand Care & Services for Aging Veterans
The U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) is planning to expand several programs that allow senior veterans to age in their own homes, or live in home-like settings, as alternatives to institutional elder care facilities.

VA will expand its Home-Based Primary Care and Veteran-Directed Care programs, which provide medical care and caregiver services to housebound older veterans, and its Medical Foster Home program, which provides housing and services to veterans who otherwise would be in nursing homes. The expansion is needed, said officials with VA's Office of Geriatrics and Extended Care, to ensure that the department can support a growing number of veterans eligible for nursing home care.

By 2039, the number of elderly veterans is expected to double from 2 million to 4 million. "These evidence-based programs allow veterans to age-in-place, avoid or delay nursing home placement and choose the care environment that aligns most with their care needs, preferences and goals," said Dr. Scotte Hartronft, the office's executive director.

Since 1999, VA has been required to provide nursing home services to veterans who qualify for VA health care and have a service-connected disability rating of 70% or higher, or are considered unemployable and have a disability rating of 60% or higher. This care is provided through short- or long-term nursing home facilities, respite care, VA community living centers, private assisted living facilities, state veterans homes and the Medical Foster Home program.

Medical foster homes are places where veterans live full time in a home setting with a caregiver licensed to provide 24-hour support, meals, housing, help with daily living and companionship. The program places veterans in houses belonging to or managed by caregivers that are licensed by their states as assisted-living facilities.

To be eligible for the program, veterans must be enrolled in VA health care and have a complex disabling medical condition that requires coordination of care across VA services and is severe enough to need a nursing home level of care.

Medical foster homes are not considered institutional care, so VA cannot pay the cost directly. However, veterans can use their VA disability compensation, Social Security income and savings to pay the cost, which covers room and board and support.

VA has faced challenges increasing the number of medical foster homes because of the rigorous regulations and requirements of the facilities and caregivers.

The process for becoming a home provider is rigorous. Applicants must pass a federal background check, complete 80 hours of initial training and 20 hours of additional training each year, and maintain certifications in first aid, CPR and administering medications.

Home caregivers must live on-site, are required to provide around-the-clock supervision and care for their veterans, and have relief staff for when they go on vacation or need to conduct other business.
Veterans in the Medical Foster Care program must also use VA’s Home-Based Primary Care program, which provides a team of health professionals to treat veterans in their homes. A VA study found that this type of home-based care yielded a 31% reduction in hospital admissions for veterans in the program and 59% drop in VA in-patient hospitalization days.

VA officials said that more veterans have elected to use the in-home medical care and caregiver programs during the pandemic, as well as the Medical Foster Care program, to reduce their risk of contracting COVID-19 and to have more flexibility in medical treatment.

"Veterans using these programs have experienced fewer hospitalizations and emergency department visits, reduced hospital and nursing home days and fewer nursing home readmissions and inpatient complications," Hartronft said.

More information on these programs is available at the VA’s Office of Geriatrics and Extended Care website: https://www.va.gov/GERIATRICS/index.asp
VA Establishes New Threshold For Reporting Benefits/Medical Debt

VA has published a final rule in the Federal Register, Feb. 2, amending VA’s procedures for reporting debt to consumer reporting agencies. These revisions change VA’s minimum requirements for reporting debt.

The rule also provides opportunity for relief and helps veterans experiencing financial hardship. This is especially important now that the department has resumed debt collection activities as of Oct. 1, 2021.

“Reporting debt to consumer reporting agencies impacts credit worthiness--and negative reports may cause financial distress for veterans,” said VA Secretary Denis McDonough. “Late remittance or nonpayment can lead to debt collection. However, overpayment of benefits funds is often debt accrued through no fault of the veteran. These new changes will result in a 99% reduction in unfavorable debt reported to consumer reporting agencies, thus reducing financial distress for veterans.”

Roughly 530,000 allowable VA debts were reported annually to CRAs resulting in approximately 60,000 delinquent VA debts being referred to credit reporting agencies each year. The VA secretary is authorized to prescribe regulations for establishing the minimum threshold and methodology used to determine debt reported by the department.

Under these new amendments, VA will not report to CRAs until all available collection efforts are exhausted and the specified debt becomes classified as not collectible. Additionally, the department will not report debts owed by veterans determined to be catastrophically disabled and entitled to VA’s cost -free health care due to low income.

“This action by VA sets an important new standard to halt the financial distress many families face when medical debt unfairly hits their credit report,” said Consumer Financial Protection Bureau Director Rohit Chopra. “I expect that many in the health care industry will seek to follow Secretary McDonough’s lead to end the practice of forcing patients to pay up through aggressive credit report coercion.”

Relief options will continue for veterans still experiencing financial distress. Enhanced relief options include repayment plans, waivers, and temporary hardship suspensions. VA will also continue to report any debt incurred by individuals who have committed fraud, misrepresentation, or bad faith. Veterans and beneficiaries with questions regarding overpayments of benefits may reference frequently asked questions at a page created by VA: https://www.va.gov/manage-va-debt/.

You can also call a special toll-free number: (800) 827-0648. For questions about medical and pharmacy copayment debt: https://www.va.gov/COMMUNITYCARE/revenue_ops/copays.asp). Veterans can contact the Health Resource Center toll-free at 1-(866) 400-1238.
DVS Offices Are Open for In-Person Assistance—By Appointment Only

DVS offices are open for in-person visits for veterans or their eligible dependents for assistance with filing VA claims, filing for state veterans benefits, or for anything that a veteran or his/her family may need help. DVS has formed partnerships with federal, state, local, and private agencies dedicated to helping veterans and their families.

All DVS office visits are on an appointment-only basis. Office hours are Monday-Friday from 8am-5pm, Monday-Friday. Veterans or their eligible dependents must make an appointment with a DVS veterans service officer (VSO) via the contact information on the following page. With the COVID-19 virus and new variants still posing a health threat, DVS is requiring visitors to wear a protective facemask. DVS staff will observe COVID-19 six-foot social distancing, and clean & disinfect offices in-between customer visits.

DVS VSOs are also continuing to offer the same service by email or phone. Veterans from anywhere in the state can contact any DVS VSO for assistance.

Below are the locations and contact information for the fifteen DVS offices and nineteen VSOs, the DVS women veterans program (an option for women veterans), the DVS Tribal/Pueblo Liaison, the Angel Fire, Fort Stanton, and Gallup State Veterans Cemeteries, and the New Mexico Veterans Business Outreach Center (VBOC) for veterans who want to open, expand, or purchase a business—or secure government contracts.
