NMDVS Takes Delivery of New Mobile Unit

The New Mexico Department of Veterans' Services (NMDVS) has received our new a new Mobile Unit to deliver vital services directly to Veterans and their eligible family members in rural and tribal communities. Recognizing the challenges many Veterans face in traveling long distances to reach NMDVS field offices, the department designed this self-contained and fully powered unit to bridge that gap by bringing benefit assistance straight to the communities who need it most.

Staffed by trained Veteran Service Officers, James Brandon and David Swisher, the mobile unit will enable NMDVS to help clients initiate and file VA compensation and pension claims, apply for healthcare and education benefits, and access state Veterans' programs and benefits within their local community.

The Mobile Outreach Unit will travel across New Mexico, making regular visits to underserved areas, including tribal lands, remote villages, and rural towns. No appointments will be necessary, allowing Veterans and families to walk in and receive one-on-one assistance on-site. The initiative reflects NMDVS and the State of New Mexico's commitment to ensuring that all Veterans, regardless of where they live, have equal access to the benefits they have earned through their service.

NMDVS has just taken delivery of the new unit and is currently training staff and preparing it for operation. A schedule of mobile unit service locations will be posted online and shared through community partners to ensure all Veterans have maximum awareness.

Don't wait to access the benefits and services you have earned serving your state and country. Contact one of our field offices at NMDVS.org or call 1-866-433-8387.

Property Tax Exemption & NM Lifetime Veteran Park Pass Events

The New Mexico Department of Veterans' Services (NMDVS) is still accepting applications from Veterans for the new property tax exemptions signed into law on March 20, 2025. The standard Veteran property tax exemption is now $10,000 and will be applied to the Veteran/unmarried surviving spouse's 2025 notice of value. In 2026 and subsequent tax years, the amount shall be adjusted for inflation.

For the tax year 2026, the Disabled Veterans Exemption allows for the Veteran/unmarried surviving spouse to apply for an adjusted exemption in an amount equal to the percentage of the Veteran's disability as determined by federal law. Veterans who choose to add the new Disabled Veteran tax exemption must submit an application to NMDVS and file it with their County Assessor. These exemptions are designed to provide financial relief to all Veterans for their service and sacrifice to our state and nation.

NMDVS has scheduled Veteran property tax exemption events throughout the state to explain the changes. State Benefits personnel will be ready to assist eligible Veterans and unmarried widows/widowers applying for property tax waivers, exemptions, and the New Mexico State Park Lifetime Veteran Pass. Our Certified Veterans Service Officers will be on-site to assist with VA benefits claims and help with questions regarding VA healthcare eligibility and enrollment, disability compensation, and state benefits assistance.

NMDVS Women Veterans Conference 2025

On Saturday, June 14, 2025, the New Mexico Department of Veterans' Services (NMDVS) proudly hosted its annual Women Veterans Conference, themed "Honoring Our Past, Shaping Our Future." Held at the Greater Albuquerque Association of Realtors and offered virtually for the first time, this year's event brought together women Veterans, community leaders, service providers, and advocates from across the state.

The conference was designed to address the unique experiences and challenges faced by women who have served in the military. The event featured presentations and discussions on a wide range of topics, including an overview of all DVS departments and services; VA healthcare with a focus on women's care; the New Mexico State Veterans Home; PTSD and Military Sexual Trauma (MST); self-care strategies and practical examples; a creative writing workshop during a working lunch; suicide prevention and crisis intervention; Missing and Murdered Indigenous Women (MMIW); and mental health resources, including therapy options, support groups, and service animal information. NMDVS representatives and certified Veteran Service Officers were on hand to provide one-on-one assistance with filing VA claims, answering benefit questions, and helping Veterans connect to state programs and benefits.

Cabinet Secretary Jamison Herrera opened the event with a call to action, emphasizing the importance of community connection and peer support. The conference also provided safe spaces for women veterans to share their stories, build networks, and find camaraderie with others who understand the journey of military service.

Women Veteran Program Manager Amberly Viner said, "From boots to breakthroughs, the Women Veterans Conference 2025 was a celebration of women warriors redefining leadership, purpose, and power. Women Veterans throughout the state of New Mexico came together to learn, connect by sharing experiences, and empower each other through healing for successful futures. This conference was a huge success and is only the start to the direction I am wanting for the Women Veteran Program. The mission continues."

With approximately 17,000 women veterans living in New Mexico, the event plays a vital role in raising awareness, providing services, and ensuring that those who served are recognized and supported. The Women Veterans Program serves as the primary resource for addressing issues that affect women veterans. Our mission is to deliver exceptional service and strong advocacy for women veterans and their families. Through ongoing outreach, we aim to ensure that women veterans are well-informed about federal and state benefits they have earned. For more information on the NMDVS Women Veteran Program, contact Amberly Viner at 505-372-9106 or by email at Amberly.viner@dvs.nm.gov.

Honoring the Heroes on Korean War Armistice Day

Troops advancing through snow at the Battle of Chosin Reservoir.

Sunday, July 27th, marks National Korean War Veterans Armistice Day—a day of remembrance and deep gratitude for the brave American service members who served during the Korean War. This year marks the 72nd anniversary of the armistice signing that ended open hostilities on the Korean Peninsula.

On July 27, 1953, representatives from the United States (acting on behalf of the United Nations), South Korea, North Korea, and China gathered to sign an armistice agreement. This historic accord brought a ceasefire to a brutal and bloody conflict that had raged for over three years. However, the agreement was not a peace treaty. To this day, no formal peace treaty has been signed. The heavily armed Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) along the 38th parallel still separates the two nations, serving as one of the most fortified borders in the world. Tensions today remain high between the two Koreas and between North Korea and the United States. America and its allies stay on alert and constantly monitor North Korea's words and actions.

Often called the “Forgotten War”, the Korean War began on June 25, 1950, when North Korea, backed by Communist China and the Soviet Union, invaded democratic South Korea. The United States quickly joined a United Nations coalition to defend South Korea, launching what would become one of the most intense military engagements of the Cold War era.

Over 6 million Americans served in uniform during the Korean War era, with approximately 1.7 million serving directly in-theater. The toll was staggering: 33,700 American service members were killed in action, including 200 from New Mexico. Over 103,000 were wounded, and more than 7,000 remain unaccounted for—including 44 New Mexicans still listed as Missing in Action (MIA).

The Korean War profoundly impacted not only those who served but also their families and communities. Many Veterans returned home with lasting physical injuries and emotional trauma, often with little public recognition or support. Despite their sacrifices, Korean War Veterans too frequently remain overlooked in our national memory.

On this day, the New Mexico Department of Veterans' Services (NMDVS) urges all New Mexicans to pause and reflect on the courage, service, and sacrifice of those who fought in Korea. We honor the fallen, remember the missing, and recognize the thousands of Veterans who came home forever changed by war. Their dedication to freedom and democracy must never be forgotten.

United Nations forces withdraw from North Korean capital, Pyongyang, recrossing 38th parallel.

Border Patrol Recognizes NMDVS VSO Clarissa Sierra

The New Mexico Department of Veterans' Services (NMDVS) would like to congratulate Southwest region Veteran Service Officer (VSO) Clarissa Sierra on her well-deserved recognition from the Border Patrol Station in Lordsburg for her outstanding dedication and service.

Robin Wilson, Field Services Director for NMDVS stated, "Clarissa took the initiative over a year ago to build strong relationships with agents in the area and has since gone above and beyond, especially in reaching previously unengaged veterans and delivering exceptional support to those across the Southwest region."

NMDVS has a team of highly trained, VA-accredited VSOs that specialize in navigating the VA claims process and are dedicated to helping Veterans and their families secure the benefits they have earned. Whether you are filing for the first time or reapplying after a past denial, a VSO will ensure your claim is complete, accurate, and backed by the necessary evidence.

To visit with a Certified VSO to help you with VA claims, state benefits, and other programs offered by NMDVS, contact us at 1-866-433-8387 or visit our website at NMDVS.org.

U.S. Coast Guard 235th Birthday

On August 4, 2025, the United States Coast Guard will celebrate its 235th birthday—a proud milestone in the history of one of the nation's oldest and most versatile military services. Originally established in 1790 by Alexander Hamilton as the Revenue Cutter Service, the Coast Guard has grown into a multi-mission force that serves under the Department of Homeland Security during peacetime and the U.S. Navy during wartime. From its earliest days patrolling American waters to its modern-day roles in search and rescue, maritime law enforcement, and environmental protection, the Coast Guard remains a steadfast guardian of our shores.

This anniversary is especially meaningful to Coast Guard veterans, whose service helped build and preserve the proud legacy we honor today. Whether stationed at sea or ashore, in peace or conflict, Coast Guard Veterans carried out their duties with determination and integrity. Their contributions laid the groundwork for today's missions and continue to inspire the next generation of Coast Guardsmen. The commitment to being Semper Paratus— "Always Ready"—is a tradition carried forward by all who serve.

We extend our deepest gratitude to our Coast Guard Veterans. Your dedication and sacrifices have safeguarded our shores and strengthened our communities. This birthday is a celebration of the service's founding and a tribute to every Veteran who has ever worn the uniform and stood the watch. Thank you for your service, and happy birthday to the U.S. Coast Guard!

Native American Training Institute Veterans' Symposium

The Native American Training Institute (NATI) Veteran's Symposium was held June 20th at the Isleta Resort & Casino Conference Center. The event was dedicated to strengthening services and support for Veterans, active-duty service members, and their families. "Empowering Native Women Warriors" was the theme centered on collaboration and communication. The event brought together tribal, federal, and state agencies, Veteran organizations, and community partners to bridge gaps in Veteran care and build lasting partnerships.

A key feature of the symposium was the opportunity for attendees to directly engage with officials from the New Mexico Department of Veterans' Services (NMDVS) and the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs (VA). These conversations enabled Veterans to voice their concerns and ask questions.

The Navajo Nation Women Veterans started the event with the posting of colors, and Paul Torres, former Governor of the Pueblo of Isleta, led the invocation. NMDVS Cabinet Secretary, Jamison Herrera, began the discussion by highlighting the benefits available to our tribal Veterans and the services provided by the state. Burial and cemetery benefits were discussed along with a flag folding demonstration by members of the New Mexico Army National Guard's Military Funeral Honors Program.

Participants benefited from expert-led sessions and resource booths that covered healthcare, (including updates on the PACT Act, PTSD, and suicide prevention), NMDVS state benefits, Tribal, VA programs, entrepreneurship, women's Veterans' programs, and rural outreach.

The conference concluded with a Tribal Veteran panel discussion, where Veterans and advocates left united, informed, and ready to continue serving their communities.

The New Mexico Department of Veterans' Services (NMDVS) recognizes Rob Miller, Central Region II Manager and accredited Veteran Service Officer based in Belen. Rob has been with NMDVS for just over two years, following his tenure as a Pretrial Services Officer with the 2nd Judicial District Court.

Robin Wilson, Field Services Director, praised Rob, saying: "Rob brings a wealth of knowledge, leadership, and real-world experience to NMDVS. He's known for his creative problem-solving, dedication to Veterans, and exceptional ability to build and lead strong teams. Rob's commitment to service continues to make a lasting impact across his region."

What brought you to NMDVS?

Following my military service, I committed my civilian career to serving the citizens of New Mexico. I initially embraced retirement, but I quickly realized I still had more to contribute. I explored a few different opportunities, but none fulfilled my deeper purpose until this position became available. I knew immediately that it offered the ideal path to continue serving, especially by supporting one of the most underserved populations in our state.

What is your connection to the Veteran community?

I proudly served in the United States Army from 1990 to 1999 as a member of the Military Police Corps, concluding my service at the rank of Sergeant. During my military career, I was stationed in Germany and at Fort Carson, Colorado.

Could you tell us a little about yourself, your hobbies, and what you enjoy doing in your free time?

I'm proud to share my life with my wife, who is also a Veteran, and our amazing son, who is autistic and lives with us. Family is at the heart of everything I do. Riding my motorcycle is my therapy, and hitting the open road, letting the wind glide over my bald head. I'm also what you'd call a backyard grill master and smoker. There's nothing like good food shared with family and friends.

What do you enjoy most about your work with NMDVS?

The most meaningful part of this work is building genuine bonds with the Veterans I serve. Whether it's sharing a laugh, shedding a tear, offering encouragement, or simply being present, I strive to make every encounter feel more like family than just a job. My role is not only to advocate for them, but also to remind them that they are seen, heard, and never alone, regardless of the outcome.

The New Mexico Veteran's Business Outreach Center (VBOC)

The Veterans' Business Outreach Center (VBOC) is funded through a grant from the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) and administered by the New Mexico Department of Veterans' Services (NMDVS). Its mission is to support Veterans, transitioning active-duty service members, National Guard and Reserve members, and military spouses who are interested in starting or expanding a small business.

VBOC provides a comprehensive range of services, including business planning, market analysis, access to capital, government contracting guidance, and other critical resources necessary to successfully launch and grow a business.

Notably, NMDVS was the first state agency in the nation to be awarded SBA funding to operate a VBOC when the program was established in 2010—positioning New Mexico as a national leader in veteran entrepreneurship support.

The VBOC is located at the NMDVS Albuquerque office, 4801 Indian School Road NE, Building 2. Walk-in business counseling is welcomed; however, scheduling an appointment is strongly encouraged to ensure personalized service and availability.

Your First Step Toward Entrepreneurship

Offered through the New Mexico Veterans Business Outreach Center (VBOC), Boots to Business is a free, two-day foundational entrepreneurship course designed for transitioning service members, veterans, National Guard and Reserve members, and military spouses interested in starting or growing a small business.

PROTECTING YOUR BURIAL AND MEMORIAL BENEFITS

AVOIDING MEMORIALIZATION FRAUD

Memorialization scams are when a fraudulent company or individual provides a service that is not in the best interest of the individual. The scammer will often offer to provide services with high rates and fees. You should be aware of these schemes in case someone asks you to participate, or in case you see fraudulent activity. Indicators of potential fraud include the following:

- Upselling memorial services and funeral expenses that are not as advertised. Veterans interred in VA national cemeteries are entitled to a gravesite, opening and closing of the grave, perpetual care, a government headstone or marker, a burial flag, a Presidential Memorial Certificate, and a digital remembrance page on the Veterans Legacy Memorial at no cost to the family. These benefits were earned. They should not be purchased.
- Charging fees. VA does not charge a fee for talking to us, or for scheduling your burial in a national or grant-funded cemetery.
- Be aware of scammers who claim the deceased had unpaid debts. Ask for proof of any debt and research any entity who claims your loved one owed them money.
- False advertisements that benefits have changed when they really haven't. Double check with your VA representative if you are not expecting benefit changes.
- Offering unsolicited help. Scammers offering help advocating for your loved one's wrongful death.

DO'S

As you navigate the end-of-life benefits process, take these steps to protect yourself from memorialization scams:

- Find out in advance if you can be buried in a VA national cemetery. This is called a pre-need determination of eligibility—and it can help make the burial planning process easier for your family members in their time of need. Apply at: <https://www.va.gov/burials-memorials/pre-need-eligibility/>
- Research your choice. Whether performing a home funeral or hiring a funeral director, be familiar with your options. Most states keep a public database of disciplinary actions for licensed funeral homes and directors. Keywords such as "funeral home," "funeral director," "sanctions," and the name of the state can help find official .gov websites where any sanctions are listed.
- Call VA if you have questions or think benefits for a loved one are not correct.
- Make sure your family is aware of your end-of-life decisions and that you have documented those wishes. This guide may help with these discussions: <https://www.benefits.va.gov/BENEFITS/docs/VASurvivorsKit.pdf>

DON'TS

Even in the most personal situations, scammers will attempt to take advantage of your benefits. Consider the following items to protect you and your family:

- Do not sign a blank form for someone else to complete later. Always review the completed form before signing and keep a copy of the completed form for recordkeeping purposes.
- Do not sign a contract or agreement to pay for burial or memorial services without reviewing charges and fees. VA provides burial and memorialization items at no cost to eligible Veterans and their families. Find out more at: <https://www.va.gov/burials-memorials/>
- Do not provide personal information, such as your Social Security number, medical records, military service records, or other personally identifiable information, to anyone offering claims assistance with your VA benefits before confirming their credentials. Use VA's Office of General Counsel Accreditation tool at: <https://www.va.gov/get-help-from-accredited-representative/>

For suspected fraud or scams:

- Call the VSAFE Fraud Hotline: 1-833-38V-SAFE
- Visit VSAFE online: www.VSAFE.gov

Focused on Military Writing and Publication

I'm primarily interviewing female Veterans who served before 1980, as the one pictured, willing to intrust me with memories, stories, or just a few words—whatever they're comfortable offering—so I can have the honor of writing and sharing their legacy. The contributions of women, especially those who served, shouldn't be overlooked.

I chased a WWII Veteran through an airport to ask to stand with him for a photo. I babbled about my teen son who, at the time, was contemplating the service. My now Senior Airman, was excited I'd met such an individual.

After the Veteran drove away, I found myself wishing I'd had more time to talk—more time to hear his story. Since that moment, I've made it a mission to connect with those who have served.
