Last Known New Mexico Bataan Survivor Passes

New Mexico mourns the loss of a true American hero. Valdemar DeHerrera, the last known New Mexican survivor connected to the Bataan campaign in World War II, passed away on July 15th, 2025, at the age of 105. His life, defined by extraordinary resilience, sacrifice, and humility, leaves behind a legacy that will continue to inspire generations.

Born on October 8, 1919, in Costilla, New Mexico, Valdemar was raised in a large ranching family that instilled in him a strong work ethic and deep faith, which he credited with giving him the strength to survive the brutalities of war.

He was just 17 when the U.S. Army drafted him in the spring of 1941 and was assigned to Battery A, 200th Coast Artillery Regiment, one of New Mexico's most storied units. By December 1941, he had been transferred to Battery A, 515th Coast Artillery Regiment. After the fall of Bataan on April 9, 1942, Valdemar was among those who resisted surrender, evading capture and making his way with a small group of fellow soldiers to Corregidor. Eventually, without food, weapons, or the means to fight back, they were captured.

Though not a participant in the infamous Bataan Death March, Valdemar endured other grueling forced marches, imprisonment, starvation, and abuse. On multiple occasions, he narrowly escaped death, instances he described as divine interventions. From a Japanese guard sparing his life, to a fellow American soldier helping him survive during a death march, and a Japanese officer choosing mercy over execution, Valdemar believed guardian angels watched over him throughout his captivity.

He was imprisoned at a textile factory in Manchuria until his liberation in 1945. At the time of his release, he weighed just 80 pounds. Returning to New Mexico, he rebuilt his life working for the State Highway Department before entering the mining industry. In 1949, he married Consuelo de Vargas of Taos and spent nearly seven decades together before her passing in 2019. Together, they raised eight children and were later blessed with fourteen grandchildren, thirty great-grandchildren, and five great-great-grandchildren. His legacy of service lives on through three of his children who are Veterans, and one grandchild currently serving in the U.S. Navy.

Until his passing, Valdemar lived with his family near Taos; his story was one of endurance, humility, and strength. He rarely spoke of his suffering, instead choosing to focus on the blessings of life, his family, his community, and his country. Valdemar DeHerrera was laid to rest with full military honors at the Santa Fe National Cemetery on July 28th.

The New Mexico Department of Veterans' Services extends its deepest condolences to the DeHerrera family. As we say farewell to the last of our Bataan-era heroes, we honor Valdemar's life and service to our state and country, which will never be forgotten.

Property Tax Exemption & NM Lifetime Veteran Park Pass Events

The New Mexico Department of Veterans' Services (NMDVS) is still accepting applications from Veterans for the new property tax exemptions signed into law on March 20, 2025. The standard Veteran property tax exemption is now $10,000 and will be applied to the Veteran/unmarried surviving spouse's notice of value. In 2026 and subsequent tax years, the amount shall be adjusted for inflation.

For the tax year 2026, the Disabled Veterans Exemption allows for the Veteran/unmarried surviving spouse to apply for an adjusted exemption in an amount equal to the percentage of the Veteran's disability as determined by federal law. Veterans who choose to add the new Disabled Veteran tax exemption must submit an application to NMDVS and file it with their County Assessor.

NMDVS has scheduled Veteran property tax exemption events throughout the state to explain the changes. NMDVS staff will be ready to assist eligible Veterans and unmarried widows/widowers applying for property tax waivers, exemptions, and the New Mexico State Park Lifetime Veteran Pass and assist with VA benefits claims and help with questions regarding VA healthcare eligibility and enrollment, disability compensation, and state benefits assistance.

This year's guest speaker, Veteran Walter Wood (Ret.), U.S. Army, is a native of Springer, New Mexico, where he was born into a proud family of ranchers with a strong tradition of military service. Several members of Walt's family served in the Armed Forces, instilling in him a deep sense of duty and patriotism from a young age. That legacy guided his path from the quiet plains of northeastern New Mexico to a distinguished military career, ultimately placing him at the Pentagon, where he witnessed one of the most tragic days in American history.

On the morning of September 11, 2001, Walt was scheduled to attend a meeting in the "E Ring," the outermost section of the Pentagon. Arriving early, he stopped by the office to check in. As fate would have it, the meeting was unexpectedly rescheduled. Moments later, as Walt walked down the hallway, the hijacked American Airlines Flight 77 crashed into the exact office he had just left. The impact killed all 64 people aboard the plane and 125 in the Pentagon.

By sheer chance and timing, Walt survived; a moment that would forever shape his life. Today, he continues to serve at the Pentagon, embodying resilience, dedication, and the enduring spirit of our nation. We are honored to welcome Walter Wood as this year's speaker, a true testament to courage, survival, and the unwavering commitment of those who serve.

Gates open at 10:00 a.m., with displays and information tables available until 3:00 p.m. A special ceremony will take place at 11:00 a.m. under the Pavilion Stage in the food court. The fairgrounds will close at 9:00 p.m. Join us for this special day to honor and celebrate New Mexico's military and veteran community.

Small Business Administration District Director Visits NMDVS

The New Mexico Department of Veterans' Services (NMDVS) was proud to welcome U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) District Director Angela Burton and Josh Baca from the New Mexico SBA District Office to the New Mexico Veterans Business Outreach Center (VBOC) for a special site visit.

It was an honor to highlight the work we're doing to empower veteran and military-connected entrepreneurs (NMDVS). Cabinet Secretary Jamison Herrera, VBOC Director Johnny Martinez, and VBOC Advisor/Project Coordinator Christina Stover thanked Director Burton for SBA's continued support. We're excited to strengthen this collaboration as we move forward with bold goals and a renewed vision.

VBOC offers a comprehensive range of services, including business planning, market analysis, access to capital, government contracting guidance, and other essential resources necessary for successfully launching and growing a business. The VBOC is located at the NMDVS Albuquerque office, 4801 Indian School Road NE, Building 2. Walk-in business counseling is welcome; however, scheduling an appointment is strongly encouraged to ensure personalized service and availability.

Veteran Service Officers Attend NACVSO Conference

The Field Services Division of the New Mexico Department of Veterans' Services (NMDVS) attended the 2025 National Association of County Veterans Service Officers (NACVSO) Annual Training Conference in Louisville, Kentucky. Our participation ensured that our Veteran Service Officer (VSO) team earned critical Continuing Education Units (CEUs) necessary for maintaining VA Accreditation, while also deepening our understanding of best practices in VA claims and appeals processes. The training sessions, which ranged from advanced claims development to updates on federal policy, were both relevant and practical.

New Mexico was publicly recognized for its leadership in two key areas: its commitment to training and certifying Tribal Veteran Service Officers, and the launch of the state's first-ever VSO Mobile Unit, which will expand access to benefits assistance in rural and tribal communities.

Beyond the classroom sessions, our NMDVS VSO team engaged with counterparts from across the country to share and develop solutions that improve services to Veterans. We worked closely with other state teams on initiatives such as the Forgotten Heroes Program and Women Veterans' outreach, both of which aim to address long-overlooked populations within the Veteran community. Our staff also participated in workgroups focused on streamlining VSO processes and improving coordination with the VA. We're proud to have represented New Mexico and bring home new ideas and proven solutions that will help us serve you better. The NACVSO Conference was a powerful reminder that when we work together, all Veterans benefit.

Military & Veterans' Affairs Committee

New Mexico's Military and Veterans' Affairs Committee (MVAC) continues its mission of advocating for active-duty military members, Veterans, and their families. The committee, a bipartisan group of legislators from both the House and Senate, serves as a key platform for Veteran and military-related legislative work. Led by Senator Harold Pope (Chair) and Representative Debra Sariñana (Vice Chair), both Veterans themselves, the MVAC ensures military voices are heard at the state level. Each year, the committee travels the state to meet directly with military leaders, Veteran organizations, and community members.

On Tuesday, July 15, at the University of New Mexico in Albuquerque, New Mexico Department of Veterans' Services (NMDVS) Cabinet Secretary Jamison Herrera gave an update to the committee. Topics included the ongoing outreach to communities throughout the state, updating Veterans on the changes to the Veteran Property Tax Exemptions that became law in 2025, and the disabled Veterans adjustment that takes effect in 2026. Details on a feasibility study that is underway for a future Veteran Resource Center were also discussed. The proposed center would be strategically located in Albuquerque near the VA hospital to serve as a one-stop shop for Veterans and family members to receive services without having to visit multiple locations. The ongoing campaign to promote the Highly Rural Transportation Program, which has provided over 1200 rides for Veterans to eligible VA doctor appointments this year, was also covered.

Secretary Herrera fielded questions about the new NMDVS mobile unit that will begin to serve rural areas of the state that do not have field offices near them, providing access to Veteran Service Officers (VSO) and State Benefits on site. NMDVS updated the committee on the number of VSOs now standing at 31, and that NMDVS was fully staffed to deliver services as effectively as possible, but the need is still growing. Updates were also given on the Women Veterans, Tribal Liaison, and the Forgotten Heroes program, providing a military funeral for eligible Veterans whose remains are unclaimed.

The next MVAC committee meeting is scheduled for August 13th in Las Cruces, NM. For more information, agendas, virtual attendance options, and meeting location updates, please visit the legislature website here.

Forgotten Heroes Burial Ceremony 2025

On Thursday, September 18, 2025, the cremated remains of 38 unclaimed military Veterans will be laid to rest with full military honors during the annual Forgotten Heroes Burial Ceremony.

The memorial service will begin at 9 a.m. at Legacy Church, located at 4701 Wyoming Blvd NE, Albuquerque. Following the ceremony, the urns will be escorted by law enforcement, service agencies, and the New Mexico American Legion Riders. The ceremony concludes at 11 a.m. at the Santa Fe National Cemetery, 501 North Guadalupe Street.

The Forgotten Heroes Funeral Program is a partnership between the New Mexico Department of Veterans' Services, Bernalillo County, the New Mexico National Guard, Albuquerque Police Department, Santa Fe Police Department, Bernalillo County Sheriff's and Fire Departments, Director's Choice Funeral Home, and Santa Fe National Cemetery. The program ensures that honorably discharged veterans who pass away without family or friends to claim them receive a proper burial with the dignity and respect they deserve.

The public is invited to attend and serve as "family" to provide a final salute for these fallen Veterans who have served our country. This event demonstrates that respect for military service has no expiration date.

NMDVS New Mobile Outreach Unit

The New Mexico Department of Veterans' Services (NMDVS) is in final preparation for deployment of its new Mobile Outreach Unit. The Mobile Outreach Unit is equipped with its own power and communications systems and will travel across New Mexico, making regular visits to underserved areas, including tribal lands. No appointments will be necessary, allowing Veterans and families to walk in and receive one-on-one assistance on-site.

The initiative reflects NMDVS and the State of New Mexico's commitment to ensuring that all Veterans, regardless of where they live, have equal access to the benefits they have earned through their service. A schedule of mobile unit service locations will be posted on NMDVS social media and websites.

Navajo Code Talkers Day August 14th

New Mexico joins the nation in honoring the Navajo Code Talkers, Native American Marines whose unbreakable code, based on the Navajo language, helped secure victory in the Pacific during World War II. Their bravery and ingenuity saved countless lives, and their legacy remains one of the most powerful chapters in American military history. For New Mexicans, the observance is especially meaningful, as many of these heroic men came from the northwestern New Mexico area of the Navajo Nation.

In 1942, the U.S. Marine Corps turned to the Navajo language as the foundation for a new, secure communications code. Twenty-nine Navajo men were recruited to develop and implement this code in the field. They served in some of the most dangerous battles of the war, including Iwo Jima, Saipan, and Okinawa. The code was never broken, and its success played an important role in America's efforts in the Pacific theater.

The contributions of the Navajo Code Talkers remained classified for decades. It wasn't until 1982 that President Ronald Reagan designated August 14 as National Navajo Code Talkers Day. Nearly 20 years later, in 2001, the original 29 Code Talkers received the Congressional Gold Medal, the highest civilian honor awarded by Congress.

Today, only two of these original heroes are known to be alive: Thomas Begay and Peter MacDonald. Both men still share their experiences and advocate for the recognition of all Native American Veterans, ensuring that the memory of the Code Talkers endures for future generations.

The Code Talkers used their language to protect our freedom. Their legacy is not just one of military success but of resilience, cultural pride, and patriotism. Let us honor them, remember them, and ensure their story is never forgotten.

The New Mexico Department of Veterans' Services (NMDVS) encourages all New Mexicans to reflect on the contributions of the Navajo Code Talkers and to recognize the service of Native American Veterans who have defended our nation with honor and distinction.

NMDVS is committed to supporting the state's Pueblos, Nations, and Tribes by addressing the unique challenges faced by Native American Veterans. Through strong partnerships, NMDVS works to ensure their voices are heard and their needs are met. NMDVS builds lasting connections with each Pueblo, Nation, and Tribe to improve access to services and solve shared challenges within Native communities.

Our Tribal Liaison Program plays a key role in this effort. Serving as the main point of contact for Native American veteran concerns, the Tribal Liaison ensures consistent communication and collaboration across all Tribal communities in New Mexico.

Veterans Family Visits to the Santa Fe National Cemetery

The New Mexico Department of Veterans' Services (NMDVS) was proud to once again assist Veterans and family members who ride the Rail Runner to visit loved ones laid to rest at the Santa Fe National Cemetery. NMDVS leaders were on hand to welcome passengers and help them honor the memory and service of their fallen heroes.

This special program, coordinated by the Rio Metro Regional Transit District in partnership with Albuquerque Senior Affairs and local agencies, provides free Rail Runner transportation to Santa Fe, along with a shuttle service to the cemetery. It is designed especially for seniors and family members who may otherwise find it difficult to make the trip.

First launched in 2023, the program was developed by Rio Metro Marketing Specialist Marie Morra, who collaborated with Santa Fe and Albuquerque senior programs and the Santa Fe National Cemetery. The service is offered three times each year and continues to grow in community impact and participation.

NMDVS remains committed to supporting programs like this that honor the legacy of New Mexico's Veterans and ensure their families have access to moments of remembrance they deserve.

Commemorating a Navy Veteran's Service in Silver City

While visiting Reserve, New Mexico, David Walker—the Cemetery Memorial Bureau Chief for the New Mexico Department of Veterans' Services (NMDVS)—met a group of veterans at a local shooting range. During their conversation, Mr. Walker introduced himself and described his role within the NMDVS. The veterans shared a concern: Earl Pitt, a Navy Veteran and fellow community member laid to rest in Silver City in 2015, did not have a military headstone, despite his distinguished service during World War II and the Korean War, including surviving the attack on Pearl Harbor. They expressed their wish for Mr. Pitt to receive a proper memorial befitting his service.

The veterans suggested Mr. Walker reach out to Billy McCarty, owner of the local hardware store, who could provide the necessary details. Mr. Walker successfully contacted Mr. McCarty, who furnished the documentation required to confirm Mr. Pitt's service.

With this information, Mr. Walker coordinated with officials in Silver City to identify Mr. Pitt's grave at Memory Lane Cemetery. He enlisted the help of Angel Fire cemetery supervisor Randall Myklebust and Gallup cemetery supervisor Gilbert Lopez to arrange for an upright headstone for Shipfitter First Class (SF1) Earl Pitt. The memorial was shipped to Mr. McCarty's store, where Mr. Walker reviewed it for accuracy before bringing it to the cemetery.

On June 19, 2025, Mr. Walker personally delivered the headstone to Memory Lane Cemetery. There, he was joined by Silver City worker Ramon Madrid, who assisted in locating the gravesite and took up a shovel to help with the installation.

The New Mexico Department of Veterans' Services extends heartfelt thanks to the Veterans of Reserve, Billy McCarty, Randall Myklebust, Gilbert Lopez, Ramon Madrid, and the town of Silver City for coming together to honor the memory of SF1 Earl Wenston Pitt—veteran of World War II, the Korean War, and survivor of Pearl Harbor.

The NMDVS Cemetery and Memorials Program, part of the State Benefits Division, oversees New Mexico's state Veterans cemeteries and the Vietnam Veterans Memorial at Angel Fire. NMDVS currently manages three state Veterans cemeteries (Gallup, Fort Stanton, and Angel Fire), with a fourth planned for Carlsbad. These state-operated cemeteries are strategically placed to serve veterans in regions distant from the Santa Fe National Cemetery in the north and the Fort Bayard National Cemetery in the southwest.

For information about interment at a state Veterans cemetery or memorialization of Veterans missing in action, please contact the designated cemetery directly here. For all other inquiries, reach out to NMDVS at 1-866-433-8387.

The 80th Anniversary of V-J Day: Honoring The End of WWII

Aboard the USS Missouri on September 2, 1945, in Tokyo Bay, representatives of the Empire of Japan signed the formal documents of surrender, marking the official end of World War II. This historic day, known as V-J Day (Victory over Japan Day), marked the conclusion of the deadliest conflict in history.

General Douglas MacArthur, Supreme Commander of the Allied Powers, led the event, with representatives from Allied nations in attendance to witness this powerful moment in history.

For the 16 million American servicemembers who fought across Europe, Africa, the Pacific Islands, and the home front, V-J Day was not just a military victory; it symbolized the years of sacrifice, endurance, and commitment to the ideals of freedom and democracy.

Among those who served were thousands of New Mexicans, many of whom had already endured hardship in battles across the Pacific, including the infamous Bataan Death March. New Mexico's 200th and 515th Coast Artillery units were among the first to engage in the Pacific War after the attack on Pearl Harbor. These brave soldiers fought in the defense of the Philippines, and many became prisoners of war, forced to march over 60 brutal miles under horrific conditions.

V-J Day was a moment of celebration across the United States. From Times Square in New York to the small communities of the Southwest, Japan's surrender sparked celebrations, tears, and remembrance of those who did not return. It was a time when strangers hugged in the streets, church bells rang, and families gathered around radios to hear the words they had long prayed for: peace.

In New Mexico, V-J Day held special significance. Many families had loved ones serving far from home, and the end of the war brought relief as well as a time for reflection. Communities gathered in local town squares, churches, and Veterans' halls to honor those who served and those who made the ultimate sacrifice. For New Mexican Veterans, including survivors of Bataan and other grueling campaigns, the day marked not just victory but also survival, relief, and hope.

As we remember V-J Day, it is an opportunity to reflect on the courage and resilience of those who fought in uniform and those who supported the war effort at home. Let us honor all Veterans, especially those of World War II, by preserving their legacy and sharing their stories with new generations.

The peace they secured is a gift we must never take for granted. As we remember September 2, 1945, let us express our gratitude to those who fought and those who made the ultimate sacrifice.

Veteran Entrepreneur Launches New Event Center

The New Mexico Department of Veterans' Services (NMDVS) proudly supports Air Force Veteran and entrepreneur Siloise Binikiseh in the launch of her new venture, La Grande Maison Lumière Event Center.

After serving six years as a U.S. Air Force officer, Siloise combined her passion for helping others with her military background in planning and development to open the event center. Siloise describes the new event center's mission as "bringing people together to celebrate and create unforgettable memories."

Siloise's journey into entrepreneurship began in 2023 after she attended the Boots to Business workshop at Holloman Air Force Base, hosted by the Veterans Business Outreach Center (VBOC). The experience played a key role in helping her transition from military service to becoming a full-time business owner.

On August 1, 2025, NMDVS Cabinet Secretary Jamison Herrera and VBOC Director Johnny Martinez joined Siloise for the grand opening and ribbon-cutting ceremony at the new location on Albuquerque's Westside.

Whether you're a veteran starting a new business or growing an existing one, consider attending a future Boots to Business workshop—it could be the first step toward your next milestone.

Your First Step Toward Entrepreneurship

Offered through the New Mexico Veterans Business Outreach Center (VBOC), Boots to Business is a free, two-day foundational entrepreneurship course designed for transitioning service members, veterans, National Guard and Reserve members, and military spouses interested in starting or growing a small business.

Participants will gain essential knowledge on the core principles of business ownership, including how to evaluate the feasibility of a business idea and how to develop a strategic business plan—an indispensable tool for any new or expanding venture. The curriculum also covers key topics such as securing start-up or growth capital, accessing technical assistance, and exploring federal contracting opportunities.

Join us for one of our dynamic, full-day sessions, typically held from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Please note that on-base access is required for classes held at military installations.

Whether you're just beginning your entrepreneurial journey or looking to expand your business, we're here to help guide your next steps. For more information about the Boots to Business program or to register, please contact VBOC Advisor Christina Stover at christina.stover@dvs.nm.gov or call (505) 469-8501.

The New Mexico Department of Veterans' Services (NMDVS) is proud to recognize and introduce the newest members of the NMDVS Field Services Division: David Swisher and James Brandon, our Mobile Unit Veteran Service Officer (VSO) team. "Both proud Veterans themselves, David and James, bring a deep understanding of military culture and a strong commitment to serving their fellow Veterans. From navigating complex VA claims to explaining state benefits, they are ready to deliver knowledgeable support directly to rural and tribal communities." - Robin Wilson, NMDVS Field Services Director.

The Mobile Unit is equipped with Starlink internet and designed for full connectivity, which will allow David and James to reach Veterans who may not otherwise have access to a field office or online resources. "We're honored to take this mission on the road," says James. "It's about meeting Veterans where they are." David adds, "New Mexico is our home. We're excited to get out there, hear your stories, and help however we can."

David Swisher, VSOII, Mobile Veteran Service Officer

What brought you to NMDVS?

I wanted to help our Veteran community and share the knowledge I had attained by filing my own claims over the years.

How long have you been with the agency?

I have been with NMDVS since February 2025. I previously worked at Comcast, where I was for over 21 years.

What do you enjoy most about your work with NMDVS?

I enjoy meeting Veterans from different eras and hearing their stories.

What is your connection to the Veteran community?

I am a Marine Corps Veteran myself. I also have 2 sons that are currently serving, one in the Marine Corps and one in the Navy, and a daughter-in-law in the Air Force.

Please tell us a little about yourself, your hobbies, and what you enjoy doing in your free time.

I am a proud father of 5 sons and grandfather to 2. I have been married to the love of my life for 26 years. In my free time, I enjoy spending time with my family and cooking/smoking food for them. I also enjoy camping and overlanding in my Jeep.

James Brandon, VS011, Mobile Veteran Service Officer

What brought you to NMDVS?

I was looking for something different, something where I could help people and feel I was making a difference.

How long have you been with the agency?

I have been with NMDVS since April 2025. Before that, I worked for Bernalillo County for the last 13 years.

What do you enjoy most about your work with NMDVS?

Helping Veterans, the VA claim process is complicated and confusing; most Veterans do not understand what is needed for a successful claim. It is personally rewarding to sit down with a vet and help them through the process and submit a good claim for them.

What is your connection to the Veteran community?

I am a New Mexico Army National Guard Vet 2006-2012. I was assigned to the 126th MP CO and deployed to Iraq from 2009 to 2010, where I conducted convoy security with the 1115th CSC.

Please tell us a little about yourself, your hobbies, and what you enjoy doing in your free time.

My beautiful wife Jessica and I have 2 kids, Aryal and James Jr. I enjoy hunting, Fishing, Camping, spending time with my family, and working in our backyard with our plants.

ARROWHEAD CENTER®

The NMSU Arrowhead Center is conducting a survey to explore the creation of a centralized Veterans Resource Center

The Veterans Resource Center would be a one-stop hub where veterans and their families could access services, support, and community resources all in one place.

Click on the survey link or scan the QR code below.

<https://forms.gle/JAW21cxVuf31sUZRA>

The purpose of this survey is to gather input from veterans in New Mexico to understand the most critical services veterans need and how to improve access to services. This survey should take about 5 to 7 minutes to complete, and all answers will remain confidential.

The survey is collected and administered by Arrowhead Center at New Mexico State University. Survey collection ends 8/15/2025.

News from the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs (VA)

VA Transition to ID.me Continues

The U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) is enhancing digital security to protect your personal information better. As part of this effort, the VA is transitioning to ID.me as one of the primary secure sign-in options for accessing VA.gov and other online VA services.

Why the Change?

Cybersecurity threats continue to evolve, and safeguarding your sensitive data is a top priority. ID.me provides a more secure and user-friendly way to verify your identity when logging into VA websites. This move helps ensure that only you can access your VA benefits, medical records, and personal data.

What is ID.me?

ID.me is a trusted technology provider that enables secure, multifactor identity verification. The IRS, Social Security Administration, and other government agencies are already using it. The platform allows veterans to verify their identity online, eliminating the need to visit an office in person.

How to Get Started with ID.me:

If you haven't already created an ID.me account, follow these steps:

- Visit VA.gov
- Click Sign In and select ID.me
- Create an account and follow the prompts to verify your identity using a government-issued ID and a selfie (a smartphone or webcam is needed)
- Once verified, you can securely access all your VA online services

The VA strongly encourages transitioning to ID.me to take full advantage of the latest security features. The deadline to switch from DS Logon to Login.gov or ID.me is September 30, 2025.

Need Help?

The VA has support resources to walk you through the process. Visit <https://www.va.gov/resources/verifying-your-identity-on-vagov/> or contact the VA's MyVA411 helpline at 800-698-2411 (available 24/7). You can also contact the Office of Connected Care at the New Mexico VA by calling Marie C. Avila at 505-265-1711, extension 7655.

Your Data, Your Security, Your Control

This change reflects the VA's ongoing commitment to keeping veterans' information safe and secure. By setting up your ID.me account today, you're taking control of your digital safety while ensuring continued access to the benefits you've earned.

Finding Parkinson's

Finding Parkinson's affirms that creating art in any form along with vigorous movement slows the progression of Parkinson's disease.

Image: C. David Thomas
Landscape for Tomorrow - Lithograph with Digital Print,
 1978 & 2021, 20 x 14

Artist C. David Thomas, a Boston-based retired university art professor and founder of the Indochina Arts Project, explores the neurology of PD by superimposing facial images over his MRI brain scans and his lithograph prints. Mr. Thomas, a Vietnam veteran, was exposed to Agent Orange and diagnosed with PD in 2015. These works reveal his ongoing battle with PD and its impact on his life and work.
